YOUNG MEN.
Especially, you have become the victims of Satiety Vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which has been the cause of the ruin and sorrow of so many of the most excellent talents of our country. You have been seduced by the entrance into sinners, with the thousand of pleasures which they offer to the living eye, married with full confidence.

MARRIAGE.
Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, let me advise you to beware of the organic infirmity, especially cured by the use of the medicine of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, as it is a disease which may seriously interfere in his honor as a professional man, and may even result in his ruin.

ORGANIC WEAKNESSES.
Immediately cured and full vigor restored. This disarming affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible, is cured by the use of the medicine of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. It is a disease of proper indulgence, and young men are too apt to commit excesses, which may result in this disease. It is a disease which may come upon you, now, that you undertake the study of medicine, and may result in your ruin.

P. T. BARNUM'S LECTURE—The distinguished showman, P. T. Barnum, will lecture on "The art of money getting, or success in life," at Masonic Temple, in this city, on Saturday evening next.

This lecture was delivered to crowded audiences at St. James' Hall, London, in 1858-9, and repeated upwards of sixty times in the principal cities of Great Britain. The London Times, in alluding to it, says: "The lecturer, to everybody's knowledge, was thoroughly 'up in his subject.' Hundreds of people pressed, one after another, into the large Music Hall, for the purpose of seeing and hearing the most adventurous showman. Barnum's capital stories were rendered infinitely amusing to all who heard them by the humor with which they were told. Barnum's great work, 'De Office,' is not more systematically drawn up than Mr. Barnum's discourse on the particularly profitable virtue to which he has given his attention. Mr. Barnum has at command a fund of dry humor that convulses everybody with laughter, while he himself remains perfectly serious. A sonorous voice, and an admirably clear delivery, complete his qualifications as a lecturer. We are bound to admit that Mr. Barnum is one of the most entertaining lecturers that ever addressed an audience."

A BATCH OF WANTS—Mrs. Butler is a factious as well as a "wanty" housewife. If her advertisement of her divers wants doesn't result in their immediate supply, the fault will attach, not to the Journal, but to the neglectful "worse half" of Mrs. B. and she, feeling virtuously indignant, as she must, will of course reprove him for it, once and for ever.

Thus, by advertising in the Journal, the widow B. can provide herself with a reliable and devoted spouse. But here is Mrs. Butler's catalogue of wants:

Woodlawn Association—Fall Meeting—Third Day.

Another delightful day—the perfect emblem of autumnal quiet. The track was finer than before, from the continued good weather, and the occasion—a benefit for the Widows and Orphans of the South—drew out a larger number of ladies than previously, although but a little part of what might have been expected. The male attendance was scarcely if any better than on the days previous, and considerable disappointment was no doubt felt at the partial failure of the scheme. We trust, however, that the charitable purpose for which the proceeds of the day were destined to be set aside will be greatly benefited.

We learn that the present losses of Woodlawn have concluded to resign the course into the hands of the old-time Louisville Association at the close of the present meeting—an event which will be hailed with pleasure, and yet not reflecting upon the present Association.

THE FIRST RACE was for a jockey club purse of $400, mile heats, best time in five—free for all ages, in which there were three entries. The male attendance was scarcely if any better than on the days previous, and considerable disappointment was no doubt felt at the partial failure of the scheme. We trust, however, that the charitable purpose for which the proceeds of the day were destined to be set aside will be greatly benefited.

General Sheridan and Kate Anderson, General was the favorite against the field, 100 to 40. At this rate even a better and the fielders invested largely, the knowing ones being confident in Grant's ability to win.

First Heat—The horses being stripped and mounted, Grant displayed to great advantage. General Sheridan looked as good as his patronage. Kate was led down in estimation. The get-off was quite even. Grant had the inside, Sheridan next, and Kate outside. In the start, however, Kate took the second place, but Sheridan passed her round the turn and took the second place and close upon Grant's heels, Kate being some lengths in the rear. This position was unchanged until Sheridan began to lead him over the back stretch. On emerging from behind the trees, it was evident that the heat was only to be won by a close struggle. On the home stretch both horses ran close and the last twenty rods almost evenly. Almost under the string Sheridan put on an extra leap and won the heat by six inches in 1:46.

Second Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Third Heat—Sheridan held the odds against his opponents in 5 to 1. The pools were rather light, Grant's friends having given up the ghost of a chance, for the most part. Kate was only bought as a desperate speculation, his heat was a repetition of the former one in almost every feature. The horses got off well together, and Grant nearly won the track in getting to the quarter pole, but Sheridan travelled up and took the lead. Grant made a fine effort, and for a half-mile ran nearly side by side with Sheridan; but on entering the back stretch Sheridan began to show his superiority, and he won behind the woods the pools were about the same. On the home stretch the struggle was close, but Sheridan won by half a length; Kate three lengths behind. Time 1:49.

GRAND LODGE—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Fourth Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Fifth Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Sixth Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Seventh Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Eighth Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Ninth Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Tenth Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Eleventh Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length. Kate was hopelessly in the rear, though saving her distance.

Twelfth Heat—The success of Sheridan in the first heat inspired his friends with confidence, and some of Grant's backers began hedging, so that little Phil took the lead in the pools at 100 to 80 on Grant, and Kate Anderson at 10 to 1. The get away was good, all three in a bunch, but Kate made a dash and led Grant round the turn, but, after passing the quarter pole, passed Kate, and several times tried to catch up with Sheridan, who kept away, however, and the struggle was reserved for the home stretch, where, despite of Grant's efforts, Sheridan led him over the score in 1:48 by half a length.
